INDOOR AIR COMFORT GOLD

FLO.IT FLOORING,
EVERY DAY YOUR
GREEN BEST CHOICE

Nowadays, more and more consumers have become aware of how important indoor air quality is.

Poor indoor air quality is due to products that release harmful pollutants, which might cause various problems - ranging from headaches and irritation of the eyes and throat, to asthma.

Therefore, Florian decided to contribute to the production of environmentally sound and eco-friendly products by certifying the wood flooring and guarantee safety and well-being to our customers.

We have been the first ones in Italy to get this product certified, both the unvarnished and varnished one, and we are proud of it.

WHAT DOES THIS CERTIFICATION MEAN?

The Indoor Air Comfort Gold certification guarantees that a product has low emissions.

The emissions from products are called Volatile Organic Compounds (VOC). Some of them are natural based like the typical odor of pine trees, while some others are synthetic; for instance, additives and solvents used in paint.

VOC can pose a serious health risk, especially to children.

There are many specifications regarding indoor emissions, which have different criteria, limit values and different testing methods, but they all have the same goal: they aim at improving indoor air quality by encouraging use of low-emitting products.

WHY DID WE CHOOSE THIS CERTIFICATION?

We chose the Eurofins Indoor Air Comfort Gold certification program because it combines all European regulations on VOC emissions and almost all relevant voluntary labels on VOC emissions, so to have all the most stringent requirements into a single label.

Furthermore, Eurofins has a reliable and effective control system, which includes on-site audits, re-testing and certification, to ensure that we continuously manufacture low-emitting products.
